

How we are responding to Coronavirus (Covid-19)

We're here to help.

At Denesha Insurance Agency, being there for people when they need us most is foundational as to why we started the company.

During this uncertain time, the health and well-being of our employees, customers, partners and the communities where we live and work are our primary concern during the global coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic.

On behalf of the entire Denesha Ins. community, our sincere and heartfelt thoughts go out to the people whose lives have been impacted by the coronavirus. We extend our deepest appreciation to the healthcare professionals working tirelessly to care for patients and to keep our communities safe, and to all other essential workers who are also leaving their own families day in and day out to keep key services running. We are truly grateful.

Our employees

We're committed to living our Value of putting people first by helping relieve some of our employees' stress and providing the flexibility they need to balance their work and family during this time. As we actively monitor the situation, we're taking proactive steps to help keep our employees and their families healthy. Among other actions, we've enabled our employees to work remotely and provided resources according to guidelines from government and healthcare officials.

Our customers

We continue to be dedicated to servicing our customers, and as this unprecedented situation evolves, we're working diligently to be here when needed most.

Our hours are 7:30 to 5:30 Monday – Friday.

When you call, we are doing our best to have live person answer.

We're committed to being responsive, flexible and provide support needed to help navigate the challenges of this unprecedented time.

Resources

California Coronavirus(Covid-19) Response

<https://covid19.ca.gov/>

Businesses and employers

Federal small business stimulus programs

<https://covid19.ca.gov/business-and-employers/>